

FACILITATING PROFESSIONAL SCRUM TEAMS

IMPROVE TEAM ALIGNMENT, EFFECTIVENESS, AND OUTCOMES

PATRICIA KONG
GLAUDIA CALIFANO
DAVID SPINKS

Forewords by SAM KANER & DAVE WEST

The Professional Scrum Series by  Scrum.org

This book expertly removes the ambiguity of facilitation and highlights the value an influential facilitator adds to a team's effectiveness through relatable stories, practical advice, and techniques to try. I would highly recommend this book to anyone, including management, working in product development, regardless of their use of Scrum.

—Nic Easton, Product Development Coach and Consultant

Brilliantly blends practice and theory. Real-life Scrum scenarios throughout the book paint a clear picture of how to put facilitation principles, skills, and techniques into action to overcome common Scrum challenges. Visualize what it looks like to guide people from not-so-effective collaboration toward greater creativity, responsibility, alignment, and improved outcomes.

—Stephanie Ockerman, Founder of Agile Socks LLC and co-author of the book Mastering Professional Scrum

Working with Scrum teams? Then buy this book! It's packed with advice and real-life examples to support your desired goals. The stories shared by the experienced authors resonated with me, and I loved the practical facilitation ideas. I will be returning to this book again and again.

—Caroline Stacey, Scrum Master and Agile Coach

The authors' insights into Scrum facilitation are transformative. Drawing from my own Agile expertise and teaching at Harvard, I can attest to the book's profound value. It's a must-read for anyone striving for high-performance teams. Kudos for this enlightening guide!

—Richard Kasperowski, CTO, Agile Expert, and Harvard University Instructor

This book is a must-have for anyone working with Scrum teams. Packed with practical tips, relatable scenarios, and a sprinkle of humor, it offers invaluable guidance to not only boost your Scrum team's success but also turn up the dial on effective facilitation on every-day scenarios. Kudos to the authors for sharing their expertise and compelling insights.

—Saniya Khalil, Product Owner

Facilitating Professional Scrum Teams: Improve Team Alignment, Effectiveness and Outcomes

Table of Contents

Cover

Half Title

Title Page

Copyright Page

Contents

Foreword

Foreword

Preface

Acknowledgments

About the Authors

Introduction

- Purpose of This Book

- Facilitation as a Complementary Practice to Scrum

- Who Should Read This Book

- How This Book Is Organized

- How to Read This Book

Chapter 1 Facilitating Alignment

- The Scrum Team Figuring Out How They Want to Work Together

 - Forming a Team Working Agreement

 - Try This! Ideate and Organize

Table of Contents

Worst Possible Ideas

Affinity Mapping

The Scrum Team That Aligns with Its Stakeholders to Deliver Value

Know Your Stakeholders and When You Need Them

Try This! Strategies for Interacting with Various Stakeholders

Stakeholder Mapping

Decision Matrices

How Long Has It Been?

Facilitate Early and Continuous Feedback

The Scrum Team Aligning on a Vision

Aligning the Scrum Team on the Product Vision

Try This! Describe Desired Future Outcomes

Tomorrows Headlines

Elevator Pitch

Product Vision Box

Roman Pichlers Product Canvas

Keys to Facilitating Alignment

Scrum Team Collaboration over Cooperation

Build Empathy Between the Scrum Team and Its Stakeholders

Make It Inclusive

Conclusion

Chapter 2 Facilitating Sprint Planning

The Scrum Team Struggling to Agree to a Single Sprint Goal

Crafting a Sprint Goal When the Scrum Team Has Competing Priorities

Try This! Converging on a Single Cohesive Sprint Goal

Stakeholder Invite

Powerful Questions to Uncover the Next Most Important Outcome

1-2-4-All

Follow Up 1-2-4-All with a Gallery Walk and the Selection of a Sprint Goal

The Sprint Goal Template

Table of Contents

The Team Member Who Pushes the Team to Overcommit

Creating a Sprint Forecast Collaboratively

Try This! Making Better-Informed Decisions as a Team

Uncovering Everyones Point of View

What Does the Data Say?

Facilitate the Discussion Toward the Next Most Important Thing to Start Next

The Team Members Who Dont Know Where to Start

Create an Initial Plan for How the Work Will Get Done

Try This! Decompose Product Backlog Items and Create an Initial Plan

Breakdown into Tasks

Visualize Tasks

Keys to Facilitating an Effective Sprint Planning

Prepare Inputs

Take a Goal-Oriented Approach

Encourage Pull, Dont Push

Leave Space for the Developers to Plan

Do Just Enough Planning

Conclusion

Chapter 3 Facilitating the Daily Scrum

The Daily Scrum Where Everyone Provides a Status Update

Approaching the Daily Scrum as a Team Plan for the Day

Try This! Use Questions and Visuals to Drive Focused Discussion

The Three Questions

Team-Based Questions

Walking the Board

Work in Progress and Work Item Age

The Daily Scrum Where Developers Dive into Problem-Solving Mode

Keeping the Daily Scrum Focused and Concise

Try This! Focus the Conversation

Take It Offline

Table of Contents

ELMO

The Scrum Team Acting as a Group of Individuals

Aligning Around the Sprint Goal at the Daily Scrum for Cohesion

Try This! Bring Everyone Back to the Purpose

The Fourth Question in the Daily Scrum

Absentees or Late Comers to the Daily Scrum

Respecting the Daily Scrum

Try This! Leverage the Scrum Values and Team Agreements

Use the Scrum Value of Respect as a North Star

Enable Consistency and Accessibility

Keys to Facilitating an Effective Daily Scrum

Focus on the Sprint Goal

Keep It for the Developers

Manage Time Effectively

Enable Transparency and Visualization

Use a Participative Facilitation Format

Conclusion

Chapter 4 Facilitating Team Dynamics

The Scrum Team Members Stuck on Their Own Ideas

Understanding Group Dynamics

Try This! Navigating Scrum Teams Through Participatory Decision-Making

Sample Techniques to Use in the Divergent Zone

Silent Writing

Crazy 8s

Sample Techniques to Use in the Groan Zone

Active Listening

Paraphrase

Sample Techniques to Use in the Convergent Zone

Pros and Cons

Six Thinking Hats®

Table of Contents

The Scrum Team with Growing Conflict Between Two Team Members

Understanding Conflict and Peoples Needs

Try This! Facilitate the Building of Empathy and Understanding Needs

Take a Break

Empathy Mapping

Personal Mapping

Team Member User Manual

Empathy Buddy Exercise Using Feelings and Needs Cards

Explore and Support Diversity of Working Styles

The Scrum Team with Weak Decision-Making

Making Clear Decisions

Try This! Decision-Making Rules and Techniques

Decision Rules

Decision-Making Techniques

Roman Voting

Fist of Five

Feedback Frames

Dot Voting

Keys to Facilitating Team Dynamics

Build Team Empathy

Help Groups Navigate Conflicting Perspectives

Powerful Questioning

Conclusion

Chapter 5 Facilitating Product Backlog Refinement

The Scrum Team Experimenting with Daily Product Backlog Refinement

Facilitation of Refining the Product Backlog

Try This! Tips for Product Backlog Refinement

Refine the Product Backlog Collaboratively

Focus Conversation on Why and What; Postpone How

Table of Contents

The Stakeholders Who Want It All

Keeping the Product Backlog Lean and Focused on Valuable Outcomes

Try This! Lead Conversations Toward Outcomes Using Evidence and Empiricism

Facilitate the Development of Product with a Lean UX Canvas

Thirty-Five

Buy a Feature

When the User Experience Is Forgotten

Keeping the User Front and Center

Try This! Facilitating User-Centric Product Backlog Refinement

The Experience Now-Next-Later Roadmap

Story Mapping

The Scrum Team That Is Obsessed with Estimating

Focusing on Valuable Conversations That Lead to Shared Understanding

Try This! Doing Just Enough Sizing to Get Product Backlog Items to Ready

Wall Estimating

Right Sizing

Keys to Facilitating Effective Product Backlog Refinement

Facilitate for Collaboration

Perfection Is the Enemy of Good Enough

Make Decisions Transparent in the Product Backlog

Facilitate Space for Ongoing Stakeholder Collaboration

Conclusion

Chapter 6 Facilitating the Sprint Review

The Sprint Review with Little Stakeholder Participation

Gathering Valuable Feedback at the Sprint Review

Try This! Stakeholder Engagement through Contribution

Invite the Right Stakeholders and Engage Them Before the Sprint Review

Facilitate Making Connections and Share Expectations

Put Your Stakeholders in the Drivers Seat During Sprint Review

Table of Contents

Chartwriting

Perfection Game and What? So What? Now What?

The Sprint Review Where Nothing Is Done

Helping Stakeholders Understand the Purpose of the Sprint Review

Try This! Stakeholder Collaboration over Stakeholder Attendance

Transparency of Done and Undone

Make Challenges Transparent

Risks and Their Impact on Longer-Term Forecasts

Keys to Facilitating an Effective Sprint Review

Create a Learning Space

Enable Interaction and Collaboration

Engage the Right Stakeholders at the Right Time

Focus on Goals and Value

Create a Healthy Space for Every Voice

Consider the Wider Market

Conclusion

Chapter 7 Facilitating the Sprint Retrospective

The Scrum Team Playing the Blame Game

Keeping the Sprint Retrospective Constructive

Try This! Regrouping and Adjusting Perspectives

The Prime Directive

Stepping Out of the Content and Reflecting on the Process

The How Might We Question Format

The Team Members Who Believe Nothing Will Change

Getting Value out of the Sprint Retrospective

Try This! Challenge the Scrum Team to Own Improvement

Circles of Concern, Influence, and Control

Delegation Poker

The Scrum Team That Thinks Theres Nothing Left for Them to Improve

Table of Contents

Challenging Scrum Teams That Have Reached a Plateau

Try This! Leverage Different Perspectives to Pursue Awesomeness

White Elephant

Definition of Awesome and Improvement Boards

The Scrum Team Dealing with a Major Change

Dealing with Profound Challenges

Try This! Taking Steps toward Resiliency and Improvement

The Check-In

Conversation Café

Discovering the Art of the Possible

Root Cause Analysis

The Scrum Master Focusing the Retrospective on Fun

Serve the Needs of the Team

Try This! Help Participants Connect to the Purpose and Create Their Own

Agenda

Connect to the Purpose

Lean Coffee

Keys to Facilitating an Effective Sprint Retrospective

Clarify Involvement as a Facilitator and Participant

Create Positive Energy

Dont Ignore the Elephant in the Room

Protect the Health of the Team

Facilitate for the Scrum Team to Get Creative

Frame Change as Experiments

Conclusion

Chapter 8 Facilitating Beyond a Single Scrum Team

The Scrum Teams Whose Members Could Be Sharing Knowledge

Communicating and Sharing Knowledge across the Organization

Try This! Facilitate Learning across the Organization

Communities of Practice

Table of Contents

Lunch and Learn Sessions

Retrospectives at All Levels

The Scrum Teams Without a Say on Their Team Membership

Organizing and Structuring Multiple Scrum Teams

Try This! Support Scrum Teams to Organize Themselves

Establish Boundary Conditions

Facilitate Self-Managing Team Formation

Visualize and Reflect on Dependencies as an Ongoing Concern

The Chaotic Customer Review

Preparing for a Large Meeting

Try This! Decentralized Large Meetings

The Science Fair/Science Expo

World Café

Gallery Walk

Shift and Share

Making Insights Transparent to All

Graphic Recording

Keys to Facilitating beyond a Single Scrum Team

Planning and Preparation for Big Groups

Strong Communication and Connection to Objectives

Clear Summarization

Provide Reflection, Feedback, and Parking Lot Spaces

Facilitate Organizational Communication

Apply Facilitation Principles but Adapt Facilitation Techniques

Conclusion

Conclusion Moving Forward

Getting Started

Watching for Common Facilitation Mistakes

Trying to Design the Perfect Session

Mismanaging Time and Expectations

Table of Contents

Navigating Group Dynamics

Improving as a Facilitator

Appendix A: Facilitation Principles

Participative

Purposeful

Process

Transparency

Healthy

Appendix B: Adapting for Virtual

Communication and Collaboration Tools

Keep It Simple

Introduce the Tools

Consider Having a Cohost

Virtual Meeting Etiquette

Be Inclusive and Respectful of Individuals Needs

Minimizing Virtual Meeting Fatigue Caused by Cameras Being On

Reduce Screen Window Size

Participants Turn Off Self View

Incorporate Periods of Audio Only

Keep Sessions Short

Break Down Content and Activities

Take Regular Breaks

Respect Peoples Time

Create Space for Connection

Sharing with the Whole Group

Making Decisions Virtually

The Power of Silence

Table of Contents

Take It to the Team!

Hybrid Facilitation

Appendix C: Facilitation Checklist

Preparation

Outcome and Objectives

Facilitation Approach

Scheduling and Communicating

Facilitation Box (In Person Meetings)

Facilitation Space and Equipment

Follow-Up

Index