

YOUR PSYCHOLOGY PROJECT HANDBOOK

BECOMING A RESEARCHER

Second Edition

Clare Wood, David Giles & Carol Percy

YOUR PSYCHOLOGY PROJECT HANDBOOK

Visit the Your Psychology Project Handbook, second edition Companion Website at www.pearsoned.co.uk/wood-psychproject to find valuable student learning material including:

- Downloadable forms, checklists, templates and worksheets to help you in the different stages of your project work
- Annotated examples of good and bad reports
- Guidance on how to organise a literature review
- Self-test questions to check your understanding
- Annotated links to relevant sites on the web

Your Psychology Project Handbook

Table of Contents

Cover

Your Psychology Project Handbook

Brief Contents

Detailed Contents

About the Authors

Publishers Acknowledgements

Guided Tour

Coming Up with The Idea

What Makes a Good Project Idea?

So, Where Do you Begin?

Doing Projects as a Team

Projects to Avoid

A Word on Career Aspirations

What Next?

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

Managing your Supervisor

Why Manage The Relationship with your Supervisor?

What to Expect from your Supervisory Relationship

Allocations to Supervisors

First Meeting with your Supervisor

The Literature Review and Design Phase

Data Collection Phase

Table of Contents

Data Analysis Phase

Report Writing Phase

After you Have Submitted your Report

Troubleshooting your Supervisory Relationship

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

The Literature Review: Identifying Your Research Question

Conducting a Literature Search

The Research Question

Building a Theoretical Framework

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

Designing your Study

Initial Decisions About Study Design

Issues in Experimental Design

Correlational Design

Observations

Designs Based on Interviews, Focus Groups and Other Interactions

Analysing Archival Data

Design Decisions Relating to the Analysis of Qualitative Data

Phenomenological Designs

Designs Using Interpretative Phenomenological Analysis

Designs Using Discourse Analysis

Narrative Designs

Designs Using Conversation Analysis

Designs Using Thematic Analysis

Grounded Theory Designs

Table of Contents

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

Project Planning and Management

Ownership and Stakeholders

Resources

Planning your Project Schedule: Gantt Charts

Risks

Monitoring and Maintaining Progress

Planning a Local Dissemination Strategy

Chapter Summary

Online Resources

Introduction

The Literature Review

Recruitment and Project Management

Experimental Work

Surveys and Interviews

Data Analysis

Data Storage, Backup and Sharing

Writing Up

Chapter Summary

Research Ethics

The Principle of No Harm

How to Prepare your Essential Documentation

Preserving Anonymity and Confidentiality

Recruitment

Your Materials

Research with Children and Other Vulnerable Groups

Table of Contents

Data Protection Issues

The Right to Withdraw

A Checklist for Scrutinising your Proposal

Some Ethical Scenarios

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

Data Collection

Interviews and Focus Groups

Not Just a Big Interview: Distinctive Features of Focus Groups

Transcribing the Tape: Reality Bites!

Using Questionnaires and Scales

Experiments

Using Archival Data

Observation

Working Off Campus

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

Data Analysis and Presentation

Statistical Methods

Qualitative Methods

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

Preparing the Report

Report Writing Style

The Main Body of the Report

Sundries

Chapter Summary

Table of Contents

Further Reading

Disseminating Your Results

Dissemination Outlets

Publishing in an Academic Journal

Preparing and Submitting a Poster or Oral Conference Presentation

The Media

Chapter Summary

Further Reading

Employability and Your Project

Applying for Jobs

Shortlisting

Transferable Skills from Your Project

Mapping Your Skills onto a Person Specification

Your Project and the Job Interview

Chapter Summary

References

Appendix - Answers to the Ethical Scenarios

Index