

PROFESSIONAL PHOTOSHOP®

FIFTH EDITION

THE CLASSIC GUIDE TO COLOR CORRECTION

DAN MARGULIS

The landmark book completely revised for the age of digital photography

Find the media files for this eBook at:
www.peachpit.com/ebookfiles/0321469097

Professional Photoshop

FIFTH EDITION

*The Classic Guide
To Color Correction*

DAN MARGULIS

Peachpit Press

Professional Photoshop: The Classic Guide to Color Correction, Fifth Edition

Table of Contents

Table of Contents

Introduction

1 Color, Contrast, And Channels

Introduction

Pearls Before Swine

The Natural Look

Sliding Down a Slippery Slope

The Weapons in the Arsenal

When Do the Eyes Adjust?

But Who Is the Reader?

The Guide Goes Out the Window

Why the Quiz Matters

I'm Beginning to See the Light

Telling the Channels Apart

When Two Are Maxed Out

The Importance of the Green Channel

Strange Channels, Strange Lighting

You Be the Judge

2 The Steeper the Curve, The More the Contrast

Introduction

Left, Right, Up, and Down

When There's a choice of Shape

A New Angle on Contrast

As Long As It Catches Mice

Table of Contents

Maximizing Detail Is No Accident
What's Important and What's Not
How to Correct, Sight Unseen
Ask a Silly Question, Get a Silly Answer
Turning a Blind Eye to the Catchlight
Levels and the S Curve
High and Low Key Images
Avoiding the Master Curve
How Far to Go?
The CMYK Alternative
CMYK Before RGB
A Vote for Auto Levels

3 Color by the Numbers

Introduction
A Plan for Using This Book and Its CD
By the Numbers vs. By the Numbers
Setting Up the system
The Magic Numbers
Looking for the Sure Thing
Picking Significant Target Points
The Lightest Significant Part
A Modest Proposal or Two
Of Free Speech and Figures of Speech
Betting the Image
Avoiding the Impossible: How the Pros Know the Numbers
When an Emerald Isle Turns Yellow
Otherwise Than by Comparison

4 Color, Contrast, Canyons, and LAB

Introduction
The Eyes-Glazed Over Syndrome

Table of Contents

The Colorspace Confrontation
The Relationship of the A and B
Controlling the Blunt Instrument
Zero Plus Zero Makes Plenty
A Jewel of a Shortcut
The Selection Without a Selection
The Color Recipe Book
LAB and the Workflow

5 The Key Is the K

Introduction
A Hypothetical Colorspace
A Message to the RGB-centric
Black as Tangerine
Where GCR Is Mandatory
CMYKs Fixed and Editable
The Need for a Lower Black Limit
The Pure Play on Black
Evaluating Neutrality
When in Doubt, Do Without
The Politics of Presswork
Of Layouts and Densities
Mud and Custom CMYK
Fine Lines and Maximum GCR
Actions and Consequences
It All Fits Together

6 Sharpening with a Stiletto

Introduction
Who, What, and When?
Where?
Why?

Table of Contents

How?

Tip: Blurring the Black

USM by the Numbers

In Which Haloing Is Taken to the Max

Finalizing the Numbers

How Much Is Too Much? Readers, Author Duke It Out

Shapen, Not Blurred

Beware of Presharpening

So Much for Newton's Third Law

Inkjet and Other Printers

A Few New Wrinkles

Other Sharpening Filters

Location, Location, Location

7 Keeping the Color In Black and White

Introduction

Where Is the Life That Late I Led?

But I'm Always True to You, Darling

In My Fashion

Who's Not with the Program?

The Lion and the Fox

The Temptation of the L

A Prince Must Keep an Open Mind

Two Confusing Mode Names

For Fortune Is a Woman

Niccolò the Magnificent

The World's Fastest B/W Conversion

Good Laws and Good Arms

To Those Who Understand

8 Keeping the Black and White in Color

Table of Contents

Introduction

The Alternate Ending

The Alternate Beginning

Harmonious with the Background

The Sky's Not the Limit

The Second Line of Defense

Time for a Quiz

A Theme and Variations

Of Artifacts and Skies

The LAB Denouement

The CMYK Coda

9 Inferences, Illusions, and When to Bet the Image

Introduction

The Red and the Black

The Media Can't Be Trusted

The Lesson of the Stain

LAB and the Info Palette

Guessing the Distribution

Counting Up the Points

Knowing How the Cards Lie

That Old Savoir Faire and How to Get It

A Card Laid Is a Card Played

How Many Tricks Can We Count?

Cards on the Table

Getting Ready for the Next Hand

10 Every File Has Ten Channels

Introduction

A Very Small Toolbox

Different Colorspace, Different Tools

Pigeons Out on a Limb

Table of Contents

Which Tool to Use?

It's All Over Now, Baby Blue

Take What You Have Gathered

From Coincidence

Mixed Up Confusion

Take Me As I Am

When I Awoke, This Bird Had Flown

Tangled Up in Blue

The Times, They Are a-Changin'

11 Making Things Look Alike

Introduction

An Introduction to Calibration

Why Should We Care?

When Options Are Limited

A Vote for the Multidisciplinist

The Price of the Perfect World

The Black & White of Color

The Colors That Are Missing

Color, Contrast, and Revolutionism

Win Some, Lose Some

CRT and LCD Monitors

The Red Flag of the Revolution

How Far Off Can We Be?

In Favor of the Machine

If Not Victory, Is Yet Revenge

Maxims for Color Revolutionists

Look for the Pattern

The Superior Measuring Device

If Our Substance Be Indeed Divine

12 Managing Color Settings

Table of Contents

Introduction

How the Phrases Are Defined

How the Color Is Defined

Assigned, Assumed, and Embedded

The RGB Working Space

Choosing an RGB Workspace: A Flowchart

The CMYK Working Space

Gray and Spot Working Spaces

Conversion Options: Rendering Intent

Color Management Policies

The Sahara of the Bozart

13 Politics, Printing, and the Science of the Skosh

Introduction

The Origin of Political Parties

Politics Abhors a Vacuum

The Power of the Media

Pollsters, Printing, and Predictability

A Party and Its Platform

The Opposition Is Heard from

Rhetoric and Substance

A Skosh of Prevention

The Contract and the Proof

The Platform Is Developed

The Cost of Negative Campaigning

Stereotyping Is a Form of Printing

Welcome to the Team

The Investigation Proceeds

The Personal Touch

Politicians Sometimes Tell the Truth

The GammaDot Gain Alliance

Table of Contents

Voting for a Change

Setting Up in Custom CMYK

Making Use of the Settings

Merging Custom CMYK and "Uneditable" Profiles

Clues That Dot Gain May Increase

Realpolitik and the Skosh

14 Resolution for the Multimegapixel Era

Introduction

The Many Types of PPI

Where Did the Pixels Come From?

Coping with Poor Resolution

More Information Means Less Variation

The Law of Averages

How Much Is Too Much?

Double the Bits, Double the File Size

What the Tests Have Shown

Shifting In and Out of 16-Bit

Final Food for Thought

15 The Art of the False Profile

Introduction

A Word Means What I Want It To

The Meaning of the Numbers

An Invitation to Play Croquet

Blurring and Gamma

Blending With a Layer Mask

I'll Be Judge, I'll Be Jury

Curioser and Curioser

Return of the Red Queen

Through the Looking Glass

The Final False Profile

Table of Contents

The Golden Key

16 What Comes Around, Goes Around

Introduction

The More Things Change

Warnings and Exclusions

When There's a Choice

The Multi-Channel Approach

Back to the Future

The Mind of the Machine

The Duckling Becomes a Swan

The Monster from the Deep

Reds, Saturated and Otherwise

Merging with a Layer Mask

Summing Up: The KISS Approach

17 Blurs, Masks, and Safety in Sharpening

Introduction

Limiting the Damage

Waterfalls and Sharpening Highlights

What's Not to Like?

Still Waters Run Deep

Sharpening, Shadows, and Workflow

High Risk, High Reward

The Search for the Layer Mask

Betting on the Sure Thing

Sharpening, Past and Future

18 Overlays, Hiraloom, and Shadow/Highlight

Introduction

The Most Serene Command

The Overall S/H Look

Table of Contents

The Meaning of the S/H Defaults

A Blur and a Blend

A Smarter Sharpen Filter?

Half Shadow, Half Highlight

S/H and Colorspaces

The Channel with the Difference

USM, Pseudo-USM, and Shape

All in the Family

Balancing Blur and Blend

Don't Try Too Hard

An Embarrassment of Riches

19 Color, Contrast, and Safety in Masking

Introduction

Finding the Excuse to Use the Mask

Red Sky in the Morning

The Scanner Operator Takes the Helm

Choosing the Right Channel

How Green Is My Valley

The Double Whammy

Multiplication and Masking

The Tale of the Towel

There Are No Bad Originals

It's a Matter of Routine

Sinking the Reflection

Highlights and Shadows Sail Again

Changing Product Color with LAB

A Swift and Swelling Ship

20 There Are No Bad Originals

Introduction

The Two-Edged Sword

Table of Contents

On Opening a File for the First Time

The Final Curves: The Strategies for Approaching an Image

Looking for Friend and Foe

Finding the Color Variation

The Final False Separation

Changes Since Last Time

Back to Square One

A Toast to Professional Color

A Buccaneer's Farewell

Notes & Credits

Index