Research Approaches in Abnormal Psychology

Sources of Information

Case Studies

Self-Report Data

Observational Approaches

Table of Contents

Forming and Testing Hypotheses

- Sampling and Generalization
- Internal and External Validity
- Criterion and Comparison Groups

Correlational Research Designs

- Measuring Correlation
- Statistical Significance
- Effect Size
- Meta-Analysis
- Correlations and Causality
- Retrospective versus Prospective Strategies

The Experimental Method in Abnormal Psychology

- Developments in Research The Importance of Replication
- Studying the Efficacy of Therapy
- Single-Case Experimental Designs
- Animal Research
- Unresolved Issues Are We All Becoming Mentally Ill? The Expanding Horizons of Mental Disorder
